

Whats on in MAY...

Thanks for reading our SWADS newsletter. It's been a very busy time here recently and we'd like to keep you updated with all of our news and events.

You may already be aware that SWADS is flying solo again as CGL combine their drug and alcohol service over on Sandford Street. Don't worry, we are still here! The New View Art Room and the Sound Recovery Studio are up and running, and continue to offer support to anyone in need of a helping hand, whether that be through addiction, mental illness, physical illness, loneliness, bereavement or criminal justice issues. Our building is mid makeover and we will be relaunching our Well-being centre very soon, with new services alongside the art and music. We have a new Logo too to reflect the growth and development of our service and will be revealing our new look very soon. We have a busy time ahead of us and hope you will join us in celebrating our exciting new future when we announce our official relaunch.

Swindon centre will be celebrating the release of Tim Burton's new film, Alice through the Looking Glass, and the Brunel Shopping Centre have invited us to hold an exhibition of art works created by our clients. Mike from the Sound Recovery Studios is putting together mysterious woodland themed soundtrack and you may even catch a live performance. Come and see us in The Brunel Shopping Centre on Friday 3rd and Saturday 4th of May. .

TRIP! We are taking 10 clients to Batsford Aboretum for a day of sketching. They have an incredible collection of cherry blossom trees and we are hoping they'll be putting on their best show when we visit on the 18th May. Our excursions are always free to clients, thanks to our Big Lottery funding and this time we are looking forward to a lovely picnic lunch too. Fingers crossed the weather smiles on us.

You can now keep up to date on social media

SWADS can now be found on facebook, Twitter and instagram. We'll be posting picture and videos of the work that goes on in our studios day to day. Why not take a look and give us a like.
